Mystery author Gail Lukasik had a family mystery she could never solve. PBS Genealogy Roadshow was so intrigued with her family mystery, they featured her story on their show, revealing her mother's life-changing secret. She'll share her on-screen and behind-the-scenes experiences, as well as the research that went into her amazing family discovery. After the show aired, the story continued to unfold adding many surprising twists to her family's multiracial story. Recently, the show invited her back to share her updated story on their special episode, "Our Favorite Stories."
